DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to applicant's communication of 2/28/2008.
Currently elected claims 17-24, and 34-40 are pending and stand rejected below.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 17-24 and 34-40 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 17-24, and 34-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jackson et al. (U.S. Patent Number 5,810,786) in view of Langevin (U.S. Patent Number 6,402,735).

Jackson discloses a tissue numbing anesthetic article with an apparatus and method for topically anesthetizing a tracheal surface with the steps of providing an assembly comprising a tracheal tube (near 20), a tracheal tube cover with a sheath (near 21, with upper cuff nearer 30 and lower cuff nearer 31) and at least one injection assembly (fill tube), and disposing anesthetic agent, inserting assembly in trachea, allowing anesthetic to diffuse (paragraphs at columns 1-4 generally). Concerning the bonding of the tube cover (see column 16 lines 23-26).

Jackson discloses the claimed invention except for the step of disposing an amount of anesthetic in the cuff after the assembly has been inserted into the trachea of the patient. Langevin teaches that it is known to use the step of disposing an amount of anesthetic in the cuff after the assembly has been inserted into the trachea of the patient as set forth in abstract, and paragraphs 2 through 4 to provide a means of effectively reducing the discomfort associated with the use or removal of a tube from a patient's body. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the method as taught by Jackson with the step of disposing an amount of anesthetic in the cuff after the assembly has been inserted into the trachea of the patient as taught by Langevin, since such a modification would provide the method with the step of disposing an amount of anesthetic in the cuff after the assembly has been inserted into the trachea of the patient for providing a means of effectively reducing the discomfort associated with the use or removal of a tube from a patients body.

Jackson in view of Langevin discloses the claimed invention except for a second labeled injection assembly. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to create a second labeled injection assembly, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8 (CA7 1977). By having more than one injection labeled assembly you could fill the cuff/sleeve at a greater rapid flow rate and also provide a redundant system if one of the lines became clogged or introduce two different anesthetic agents to the trachea.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
